

CROWLEY CITY COUNCIL

City Government

Crowley is led by a mayor/council/city manager form of government, with the mayor and all six city council members elected at-large. Direct resident input to city government takes the form of several volunteer boards and committees that advise the City Council on a variety of issues such as crime prevention, parks, recreation and community services, etc. Membership on the city council is voluntary and each member serves a three-year term.

Contacting Elected City Officials

Elected city officials do not have offices at City Hall. To leave a message for an elected city official, call (817) 297-2201. When you hear the greeting begin, enter the official's four-digit extension. Messages can also be given to the operator to be put in their mail boxes. One of the best ways to reach a council member is via his or her email address.
